Focus Locally

- Be an active, helpful member of your home community. Volunteer to cover childcare needs for neighbors or to check in (by phone/from a distance) on the elderly. If you're part of a religious community, see if there are ways that you can provide support through them. Check with organizations where you have volunteered in the past to see if you can step back into previous roles.
- Use idealist.org or volunteermatch.org to seek other local options, but be ready for slow responses.

Volunteer Virtually

- Operation Warm has a list of 25 ways to volunteer virtually
- Paper-airplanes.org invites volunteers to provide online tutoring to “bridge gaps in language, higher education, and professional skills training for conflict-affected individuals”
- Dosomething.org's nine places to volunteer online and make a real impact

Network with Local Health Professionals

- Once the current situation has stabilized: Contact alum physicians near your home by searching by location in your school's Alum Directory and on LinkedIn. It will be interesting to talk with them about their experiences as physicians, especially during this time. Shadowing is unlikely to be possible for a while.

Research Professional Schools

- Surf through websites for schools in your chosen profession in your home state
  - Medical school links are available below:
    - AAMC Allopathic \(MD\) Medical Schools
    - AACOM Osteopathic \(DO\) Medical Schools
      - Watch this video to learn about osteopathic medicine.

Work on Life/“Adulting” Skills

- Do you know how to cook? Offer to cook and deliver a meal to neighbors trying to manage childcare and work obligations at home.
- Develop an at-home exercise routine (this is also good self-care!)
- Take up or revisit a craft or hobby -- origami, bike repair, gardening, the instrument or art supplies you put down at the end of high school...
- If you've never tracked your budget and expenses before, analyze your spending from the last year and develop a budget moving forward (see Nerdwallet tips)
